

Player Registration

This guide is intended for clubs setting up player registration in Ramp and for players completing registration through the club's front-end registration site.

* This season, bulk upload will not be available. Players must register through the club's front-end registration site. Clubs may submit their player lists to OBA, and OBA will invoice the club for player memberships. Once payment is received, OBA will send promo codes for player registrations. Players who receive a promo code should enter it during registration; otherwise, they will pay the Canada Basketball and OBA membership fees to complete their registration.

Creating a player package on Ramp.

1. On the club's back end on the left-hand side, select 'Packages' and then "Packages" from the drop down. On that screen, select "Add New Record".

You cannot delete a Package if there is a registration with that package selected

2. On this page, select Player package for the 2026-2027 season and choose All for associated season. Select the applicable divisions, then scroll down and add a package name, such as "Player." At the bottom of the page, set the price to 0 unless your club is collecting fees through Ramp. Then click "Submit."

Using an Invite Code

1. When a player clicks the invite code, they will be taken to the club's front-end registration site. If they do not have a Ramp account, they can create one here, or they can log in to their existing account.

2. After logging in, the player should see their team's name at the top of the screen. They should select "I am a player" and then continue.
